

OUTDOOR EXPERIENTIAL EDUCATION Graduate Course for Teachers

When: June 10-14, 2019

8:00am-4:30pm

Where: Kendall County Outdoor Education Center

Hoover Forest Preserve, Yorkville

What: 3 graduate credits from University of St. Francis

The course is designed for educators teaching elementary through middle school who want to use outdoor education to expand their curriculum. The course involves hands-on learning and encourages teachers to integrate this new material into their classrooms. Topics include team building, living history, natural science, ecology, and conservation. You will find yourself off the ground on our challenge course, transported back in time with Redhawk, paddling a canoe down the Fox River, and investigating the many lessons waiting for us all outside. It is truly an opportunity for experiential learning!

Cost: $175 to the KCOEC

$450 to University of St. Francis for credit

For more information or to register, contact Deanna Bazan at dbazan@roe24.org

*Learning is experience.
Everything else is just information.*

-- Albert Einstein

