

Nature Rx: Social Emotional Learning for Students and Teachers

When: June 14-18, 2021 8:00am-4:30pm

Where: Kendall County Outdoor Education Center
Hoover Forest Preserve, Yorkville

What: 3 graduate credits from University of St. Francis

This 5-day course will offer experiences in outdoor settings to practice integration of SEL standards into current classroom curriculum. There will be a focus on team building activities, current outdoor curriculum aligned to state learning standards, and the introduction of resources in developing outdoor learning spaces at school sites. This process will address current issues such as priority learning standards during the pandemic, mental health of both students and teachers, limiting factors of outdoor education, and school building/district rules and expectations. Teachers will be encouraged to network with one another as they prepare lessons for use at their own indoor and outdoor learning spaces at their schools. It is truly an opportunity for experiential learning!

Cost: $175 to the KCOEC
$450 to University of St. Francis for grad credit
